BUILDING THE BRIDGE

An old man, going a lone highway,
Came at the evening, cold and gray
To a chasm vast and wide and steep
With a sullen stream at its sombre deep.
The old man crossed in the twilight dim;
The sullen stream had no fear for him;
But he turned when safe on the other side,
And built a bridge for the chasm wide.

Old man, "said a fellow pilgrim near,
You are wasting strength with building here;
Your journey will end with the ending day,
You never again will pass this way;
Your feet have crossed to the safer side
Why build you the bridge at the eventide?"

"The builder lifted his old gray head,
"Good friend, in the path I have come," he said
There followeth after me today
A youth whose feet must pass this way;
This chasm that has been naught to me,
To that fair-haired youth may a pitfall be.
He, too, must cross in the twilight dim –
Good friend, I am building the bridge for him.

Are we building a bridge for someone to cross?
