Welcoming Comments

Take every opportunity. Take the time and slow down. Take the time to enjoy the little things. Take the time to spend with your family. Take the time to talk with a friend. Take the time to call someone you haven't heard from in a while. Take the time to enjoy the long drive home. Take the time to enjoy the sunset or sunrise. Take the time to tell someone you love them, and how much you appreciate them. Yesterday is gone forever, today is here for just a little while and tomorrow may not get here. Don't rush today because this moment is all that you have. Take the time to say "Thank you Lord" for His mercy, goodness, grace and love. Is he not worthy of our time? It really belongs to him anyway!

BIBLE TRIVIA:

Last Week's Question: Who committed the first murder?
Answer: Cain, who murdered his brother (Genesis 4:8)

This Week's Question: Who acknowledged the innocence of Jesus but allowed him to be crucified anyway?

It is a guarantee that we will always have problems in our life, but we should never allow them to become our focus. When we feel ourselves sinking in the sea of circumstances, we need only to cry out to Him, "Help me, Jesus!" and he will draw us back to Him.

A bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgment unto truth.

Isaiah 42:3

Former Member Gina Bewley and Garon Tuck putting in their registration slips for the door prizes at the Bingo Bash.
